

Product Code . JL-PLE-4062

Galvanometer Ballistic

Description

Galvanometer Ballistic

The ballistic galvanometer is designed to deflect its indicating needle (or mirror) in a way that is proportional to the total charge passing through its moving coil or to a voltage pulse of short duration.

Any conventional galvanometer may also be employed as a ballistic type.

But the latter has smaller torque and higher inertia in the coil.
