

Product Code . JL-LS-4960

Mechanical Stop Clock

Description

Mechanical Stop Clock

A stop clock is a small portable device which used to measure the amount of time between the start and end of a particular task.

It has a start and stop lever.

The dial has a second's and minute's pointer to indicate the time period in the most accurate manner.

The clock is also fitted with a fly back lever better reading and accuracy.
